

TERM SHEET

MAJESTIC EVOLUTION FUND

The Fund offers an opportunistic global-macro strategy that seeks to maximize total return via active management of securities and derivatives instruments. The Fund's investment strategies and portfolio investments differ from those of many other hedge funds and mutual funds. It aims to capture up and down-market moves using various quantitative models covering regulated cryptocurrency futures contracts. This approach to investing may make the Fund a more volatile investment than other hedge funds or mutual funds and may cause the Fund to perform less favorably than other funds under similar market or economic conditions. The manager uses risk management tools in order to protect capital in times of stress. The Fund is entirely independent of benchmark constraints and is designed to have potential for low correlations to equity and traditional fixed income over the long term.
